

Titles We Love This Month

In the Studios

ALAN CUMMING

Alan Cumming, star of "Cabaret" and "The Good Wife," is no stranger to the recording booth. He was back in it for a more personal job — narrating his forthcoming memoir, NOT MY FATHER'S SON.

Available October 7 from Harper Audio

editors' picks New Audiobook Releases

from AudioFile®

JOHN WATERS • Carsick
Read by John Waters
Unabridged/ Release date: June 3

John Waters

MEMOIR
Read Review

Who better than film director John Waters himself to narrate his hitchhiking odyssey? The book is divided into two novellas and the actual journey itself. Waters, as author and narrator, outdoes himself on the novellas but is his best—and real self—with the actual diary of the trip. Listeners will feel they've been along for the ride as Waters joyfully reaches his destination.

MARCIA CLARK • The Competition
Read by January LaVoy
Unabridged/ Release date: July 8

Marcia Clark

MYSTERY & SUSPENSE
Read Review

Assistant Prosecutor Rachel Knight teams up with Detective Bailey Keller to investigate a Columbine-like massacre of students and teachers at a Valley high school. Narrator January LaVoy is quick and glib and gives real personalities to the two investigators.

© Jordan Nagler
January LaVoy

"The plot of The Competition revolves around a school shooting, which made this a very challenging title to record, but it is written with great intelligence, compassion, and sensitivity—while maintaining a sense of page-turning urgency. Marcia's books are among my very favorites to narrate, and this is the fourth in this fantastic series."— January LaVoy